Response to Arguments

1. This communication is in response to applicants' response received on March 18, 2005.
2. The amendments of claims 1, 6 and 7 are acknowledged. It is also acknowledged that the amendments of these claims do not introduce any new matter.
3. Applicants' arguments have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new ground of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 3 and 4 recites the limitation "...said message comprises..." in line 2.

There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim 6, in line 4 recites "...using an a RADIUS..." The word "an" is extra. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim 7, in line 6 recites "...as a as a RADIUS..." one of the phrases "as a" is extra. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1, 3-7 and 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hrastar et al (6,272,150 B1) (hereinafter Hrastar).

A plurality of subscriber terminals coupled to the Internet protocol gateway, the subscriber terminals for receiving broadcast signals from the information server. See, for example, Fig. 1; col. 8, lines 5-16; col. 8, lines 28-67.

A return channel for transmitting information from a subscriber terminal to a head-end. See, for example, col. 3, lines 22-29; col. 7, lines 16-27.

Authentication means coupled to an internet protocol gateway, the authentication means for authorizing the access of the subscriber terminal to interactive services. See, for example, col. 9, lines 25-34.

Wherein the subscriber terminal includes an access means for logging onto an authorization server using the internet protocol gateway to enable a request of one or more of a plurality of services, the authorization server configured as a RADIUS protocol server and to check the entitlement of the subscriber to the one or more of a plurality of services to be provided by the information server, and the authorization server is configured to enable the subscriber to access said one or more plurality of services. See, for example, col. 9, lines 21-49 and col. 16, lines 37-61.

Referring to claim 3, Hrastar discloses:

Broadcast network according to claim 1, wherein said message comprises information about at least one source IP address from which IP packets are passed to the subscriber station. See, for example, column 4, lines 55-65.

Referring to claim 4, Hrastar discloses:

Broadcast network according to claim 1, wherein said services are transmitted using IP packets, and in that said message comprises information about at least one destination IP address to which IP packets from the subscriber station are passed. See, for example, column 4, line 53-col. 5, line 107 and col. 6, line 64-col. 7, line 4.

Referring to claim 5, Hrastar discloses:

Subscriber station for receiving broadcast signals. See, for example, col. 6, line 64-col. 7, line 4.

Wherein the subscriber terminal comprises authorization transmitting means for transmitting authorization request messages to an authorization server. See, for example, col. 7, lines 16-27 and col. 9, lines 21-25.

The subscriber further being arranged for receiving authorization messages from the authorization server. See, for example, column 9, lines 25-30.

And in that the subscriber station is arranged for requesting services from the head-end after receiving a positive authorization message. See, for example, column 8, lines 11-16 and column 9, lines 25-30.

Referring to claim 6, Hrasta discloses:

A gateway for passing, information from an information server to at least one subscriber terminal. See, for example, column 8, lines 11-16 and column 8, lines 62-67.

Wherein the gateway is arranged for enabling a subscriber terminal access to an authorization server using a RADIUS protocol network, to request one or more of a plurality of services and in that the gateway is arranged for enabling the subscriber to access the one or more of a plurality of services in response to an authorization message received from the authorization server. See, for example, column 9, lines 20-30.

Referring to claim 7, Hrasta discloses:

A method comprising transmitting broadcast signals to at least one subscriber station and transmitting information from the subscriber terminal to a head-end. See, for example, col. 3, lines 22-29, col. 7, lines 16-27 and col. 9, lines 10-14.

Method further comprises authorizing the access of the subscriber terminal to available services. See, for example, column 9, lines 25-47.

Wherein the method comprises a subscriber terminal accessing an authorization server, configured as a RADIUS protocol server, to request one or more of a plurality of services, checking the entitlement of the subscriber terminal to the one or more of a plurality of services to be provided and in that the method comprises enabling the subscriber to access said services if the subscriber terminal is entitled, wherein the method comprises transmitting information to the subscriber terminals via an internet protocol gateway, and in that the method comprises enabling the subscriber to access said one or more of the plurality of services by transmitting a message to the gateway to grant said subscriber access to said services See, for example, column 8, lines 11-16, column 8, lines 62-67, col. 9, lines 21-49 and col. 16, lines 37-61.

Referring to claim 9, Pinder discloses:
